

I am very unhappy that Sinclair Broadcast Group is allowed to air "Stolen Honor", which the New York Times calls a partisan advertisement for the Bush campaign. Our "free" press has an obligation to provide balanced news. I fear we will become a society in which the media is government controlled, just like communist countries control their media. If that happens, we are no longer a free society.